Your Score	Recommendation
7-12	Overall, your life experiences have had little impact on your daily life over the past year. Resources to help you maintain a good balance are available through your student service advisor and Perspectives, the student assistance program.
13-18	Your results indicate that you have experienced life events that have impacted some aspects of your daily life over the past year. You may want to be more aware of these areas and have a plan to address issues that may arise before they impact your academic progress. Your student support advisor is your main contact for both academic and financial concerns and to help you identify available resources to promote your success.
19-25	Your results reflect that you have experienced some moderate to major events over the past year that have impacted aspects of your daily life. If you are seeing these events now or in the near future impacting your academic success, we recommend reaching out to your student service advisor for financial or academic concerns. Additionally, make the most of the complimentary Perspectives student assistance program that can provide a wide variety of resources for you and your family members/significant others.
26-39	Your results indicated that you have experienced life events over the past year that have had major or overwhelming impact on your daily life. To support your academic success, we highly recommend that you reach out to your student service advisor for financial or academic concerns. Additionally, the Center for Academic Success (CAS) provides pre-licensure BSN students with professional tutors for academic support. The student assistance program, Perspectives, provides complimentary, confidential support to students, family members, and significant others in areas including stress management, academic support, financial resources, family caregiving resources, and health/wellness services.
