Chief Complaint (CC)

HPI

Client arrives today with complaints of trouble sleeping, trouble concentrating, and stress eating during the last four weeks. Patient states she and her husband recently moved to Hawaii from Florida, and started a new job contract as a travel nurse. Per the patient, it has been stressful interacting in a new work environment, as it relates to working in a different unit, she also states she misses her grown children as she customarily sees them daily. She is currently traveling with her husband, appears to have a strong support system during her stay in Hawaii. Client enjoys family time with her four grown children, as well as hiking and exploring with husband.
