

Introduction:

Good afternoon, Dr. Wray. This is Taylor Lindsey. I am calling you because you are a Pediatric Orthopedic Specialist. I need to refer a patient to you for evaluation of a Salter-Harris Type II fracture for treatment recommendations.

History of Present Illness (HPI):

"The patient is a 15-month-old female, seen on March 10th, who was playing on equipment at the park. Her parents witnessed a low-level fall, after which the child refused to put weight on her left leg. There was no direct trauma to the knee or hip. The child was carried to the car and taken to the clinic for further evaluation. The child has been otherwise healthy with no significant medical history. There are no concerns regarding immunizations or growth development."

Physical Exam Findings:

"Upon my exam, the child is in no apparent distress. She is alert and active, but she is not fully weight-bearing on her left leg. On inspection, the left lower limb appears normal without obvious deformity. There is no erythema, bruising, or swelling around the
