State the name of your chosen topic from the provided list OR choose a topic of your own.	The right to clean air and water
Provide a brief background of issues that may have led to the policy.	Growing worries about pollution and health hazards in local communities, particularly in the wake of incidents like the Flint, Michigan water crisis, led to this legislation. Polluted air and contaminated drinking water have plagued many communities for years, causing illness and environmental harm. Demands were made to recognize clean water and air as fundamental human rights.
How does the policy affect individuals domestically or internationally?	By ensuring that everyone has access to clean resources and lowering pollution, this strategy helps safeguard public health in the United States. It benefits low-income areas in particular, which frequently experience the most difficult circumstances. Around the world, it promotes objectives for a healthy planet and pushes other nations to enhance their environmental laws.
