

Question 1

The Centor criteria have been shown to be predictive of a positive diagnosis of _____ in adult patients.

Staphylococcus

Group A streptococcal pharyngitis

Group B streptococcal pharyngitis

H. Influenza

Question 2

1 / 1 pts

What differentiates chronic rhinosinusitis from allergic rhinitis?

Allergic rhinitis has persistent nasal blockage.

Chronic rhinosinusitis is characterized by sneezing and watery eyes.

Allergic rhinitis has an acute onset

Chronic rhinosinusitis typically has a positive family history of similar problems.

Question 3

1 / 1 pts

What is normal intraocular pressure?

5-8 mm hg

2-4 mm hg

10—20 mm hg

50 mm hg or greater

Question 4

1 / 1 pts

Treatment for viral pharyngitis include:

Rest, Antibiotics, and oral fluid

Rest, antiviral Tamiflu, and fluids

Rest, humidification, warm saline gargles, and throat lozenges

Rest, warm saline gargles, and antibiotics