

QUESTION 1

1. What serious condition can occur when a patient with hyperthyroidism stops treatment, develops an infection or has surgery?

- Myxedema coma
- Adrenal crisis
- Diabetic ketoacidosis
- Thyroid Storm

1 points

QUESTION 2

1. Vasopressin is a commonly used pressor in critically ill patients that are hemodynamically unstable. Vasopressin is essentially _____ given as an intravenous medication.

- Antidiuretic Hormone (ADH)
- Aldosterone
- Thyroxine
- Triiodothyronine

1 points

QUESTION 3

1. A patient presents with hyperkalemia, metabolic acidosis, hyponatremia, hypotension and low blood glucose levels. What endocrine disorder do you suspect in this patient?

- Cushing's disease
- Addison's disease
- Grave's disease
- Hashimoto's disease

1 points

QUESTION 4

1. Interleukin is a hormone secreted by T-cells to signal the cells to increase the effectiveness of the immune response. What class of hormone does interleukin fall into based on its function?

- Endocrine hormone
- Paracrine hormone
- Autocrine hormone